

AURATIO

Brand title: Where Greats Orate

Brand description: Auratio is a unified, community-driven, and AI-integrated platform for public speakers, professional presenters, and content creators. Unlike typical AI tools that offer generic and unstructured responses, Auratio helps users plan and accomplish their entire professional journeys with comprehensive curricula. Inspired by Toastmasters International, we aim to foster the practice of practical English speaking skills all over the world. We envision a future where Auratio will transform into an international organization for learning English as a functional skill. We will not just build a product; we will build an entire worldwide organization.

Core consumers: Public Speakers, Professional Presenters, and Content Creators.
